POLICY STATEMENT

Licensed software provided by National University of Health Sciences (NUHS) is owned by the University and is protected under the Illinois Software License Enforcement Act. The University has purchased a license for its use and thus users are required to follow specific details of the License Agreement, which accompanies any software package. This agreement must be signed by the Vice President for Business Services or his/her designee.

Public domain software purchased by the University or procured from outside sources may be copied and/or used on University computers only. All users of computers must have in their possession both the original manual and the distribution media.
