

The Art of Giving

Well, it's that time of year again.

I was sitting in the family room reading the other night when the phone rang... it was my college alma mater asking for my annual donation. Now, my college alma mater has an endowment fund that would make most schools salivate, but it is a private school and to help keep the tuition from going into the heavens, many alumni and I make a donation every year.

I am going to tell you a little secret — when I was there, I was not their favorite son and some of the professors should not have had a job (in my humble, yet all knowing opinion). In any event, I have decided that sometimes the professor pool is a little shallow and maybe it wasn't all the school's fault. So, I send them money every year.

I also make a donation to my chiropractic alma mater. I am going to tell you a little secret — when I was there I was not their favorite son, and you can guess at the rest of the story. I also make donations to my state and national associations. Why? Because we are small in number, as professions go, and if we all just think of ourselves and not our educational and political bodies, they will go away and we will soon follow.

Don't misunderstand me, my college alma mater still has some policies with which I disagree, and it is possible that my chiropractic alma mater has some policies with which I would disagree if I knew of them. But that is all immaterial because they both need our financial support, especially in these difficult economic times.

Looking Back - Moving Forward

As the year comes to a close, National University can look back on a year of significant improvements, generous donations and unique changes. A brief summary of 2010's highlights follow.

Donations

Standard Process donated $500,000 over the next five years for upgrades to campus facilities beginning with the biochemistry/neuroanatomy lab in Janse Hall.

Anabolic Labs and Standard Process donated pallets of vitamins and supplements for use by NUHS in treating the homeless and medically underserved.

Bequests

A $1 million bequest was received from the estate of a grateful patient of an NUHS graduate in Michigan.

A Lincoln Chiropractic College graduate donated one-third of a million dollars to National as part of his will.

Upgrades

New manual flexion tables were installed on the Lombard campus for use in the Advanced Manual Therapy Techniques class.

A new fully interactive classroom was created in Janse Hall.

The last of the university-owned houses on the south side of East Edward Street were demolished to provide more greenspace on the Lombard campus.

Renovations to Janse Hall's main floor in Lombard continue with the removal of lockers and addition of paneling.

Innovations

A post-traumatic stress disorder clinic offering free acupuncture care for veterans has been established at the NUHS Whole Health Center – Lombard. The clinic is under the supervision of Frank Yurasek, PhD, MSOM, assistant dean of Acupuncture and Oriental Medicine.

Lombard faculty member, Daniel Richardson, PhD, is conducting a 90-hour postgraduate course in pharmacology in New Mexico for chiropractic physicians wishing to prepare for licensure to prescribe drugs from a limited formulary under the state's expanded scope of care regulations.

The NUHS Whole Health Center – Lombard has welcomed an allopathic doctor, Sean Rardin, MD, to its clinical staff. Dr. Rardin specializes in family practice medicine and has a clinical interest in integrative medicine.

“Through the Hands of These, God Speaks”

By James F. Winterstein, DC
NUHS President

I've used it before, but the following passage from “The Prophet,” by Kahlil Gibran always seems right when I write about giving. He wrote:

There are those who give little of the much which they have — and they give it for recognition and their hidden desire makes their gifts unwholesome.

And there are those who have little and give it all.

These are the believers in life and the bounty of life, and their coffer is never empty.

There are those who give with joy, and that joy is their reward.

And there are those who give with pain, and that pain is their baptism.

And there are those who give and know not pain in giving, nor do they seek joy, nor give with mindfulness of virtue;

They give as in yonder valley the myrtle breathes its fragrance into space.

Through the hands of such as these God speaks, and from behind their eyes He smiles upon the earth.

In this issue of Alumnus, we recognize those many individuals who have given their financial support to National University of Health Sciences and we express our sincere and heartfelt gratitude.

Once again, this year, we have been blessed with some substantial gifts, one of which came from the estate of a Lincoln alumnus, Dr. Tex Rabourn, who left in excess of $300,000 to National University of Health Sciences. If you have not placed National in your will, I highly recommend that you do so as a way to memorialize and support your alma mater. National is in my will and I would have it no other way, Another major gift came from the patient of an alumnus. One thing we could learn from our allopathic colleagues is that our patients, far more of them than we might imagine, have financial resources and often are looking for a worthy cause to name in their will.

Allopathic patients have built entire hospitals through their gifts, but only rarely do patients of the CAM professions come through with financial support such as that — because we do not ask.

NUHS alumnus Dr. E.P. Lockwood was caring for a patient who had accumulated some money and was seeking a suitable recipient for his money after he passed away. Dr. Lockwood spoke with Mrs. Tracy McHugh and told her of this gentleman, and she in turn talked with Dr. Lockwood's patient who decided, as a result, that his legacy would come to National University.

The result of Dr. Lockwood's concern and care and the efforts of our Vice President for Administrative Services, Mrs. McHugh, was that NUHS received a bequest of $1 million from this giving man.

Friends, not everyone can give large gifts, but all gifts are valuable and necessary for NUHS to continue its progress. Those of you who are in practice, however, can give your patients the opportunity to give to a greater cause — National University of Health Sciences. I urge you to consider this potential source of support for our professions and the University that is your alma mater.

As the year draws to a close, let's be thankful for all our blessings and look to the New Year with anticipation of another opportunity to serve our fellow humans who need what we have to offer.

May God bless and keep you all in 2011!

NUHS Benefits from LCC Alumnus' Estate

National University recently received a generous gift from the estate of a 1954 graduate of Lincoln Chiropractic College.

The late Tex “Doc” Rabourn, who practiced in South Shore, Ky., for more than 30 years before retiring, bequeathed one-third of a million dollars to National as part of his will.

National University of Health Sciences became the curator of records from Lincoln Chiropractic College when Lincoln closed its doors in 1971, thus Rabourn became a National alumnus. The historic Lincoln College is commemorated in name through the Lincoln College of Postprofessional, Graduate and Continuing Education at NUHS.

“We are truly grateful for Dr. Rabourn's dedication to the chiropractic profession through this generous gift to National,” says President James F. Winterstein. “Legacies from such dedicated physicians go a long way in helping to prepare new leaders in our chiropractic profession and to keep its future strong.”

Using the Past to See the Future

Dear Colleagues,

This past winter, I received an invitation in the mail for my 20th class reunion for undergraduate school. 20th... no way has it been 20 years since I graduated college! But alas, it has been, and although I ignore Father Time, I cannot avoid him.

So now I came to the realization that this next homecoming will be my 15th class reunion from NUHS. I understand that time is a very relative aspect of life, but for some reason these recent milestones seemed to have caught me by surprise and made more of an impact than usual in terms of reflecting back on my accomplishments and mistakes.

So what were my goals for 15 years after I graduated? Honestly, I don't think I looked that far ahead, and like all other recent graduates, in those early years, I was all consumed with the here and now and the immediate concerns of starting a practice and paying the bills. Then a wife and kids made the scene and an all new set of concerns and priorities emerged. It seems like for the last 10-15 years, there was little time to catch my breath or bother with anything that did not cross my immediate path.

I am sure that most of you out there can relate to such priorities and concerns as well as limited free time, and by no means should we feel guilty for doing what was necessary. However, we must eventually find a way to make the time and the financial commitment for the betterment of our profession.

In the NCMIC Starting Into Practice Seminars, in which I participate, we urge the soon-to-be graduating students to put national, state and alumni association dues into their personal budget as soon as they graduate, so as not to lose track of time and eventually realize their neglect of the profession and alma mater. For those of you who have let the years slip by and are now realizing that it's time to try to do more... it is never too late to start giving and getting involved!

So once again, I ask that all alumni out there to please become dues paying members, and for those of you who can manage, sign up for one of the levels of the PCI. Five years ago, I made a commitment to NUHS as a PCI member and planned on attending homecoming weekend every year. I look forward to my yearly sojourn... I am hoping you will all do the same!

Sincerely,

1920s

The late Dr. Harold Solem (1923) of Evanston, Ill., is the subject of a 20-chapter biography being written by his daughter, Marilyn Muesing. Dr. Solem practiced as a naturopath before graduating from National. Drugless physicians were the enemy of allopathic medicine back in the 1920s, '30s and '40s. Dr. Solem fought that battle for years and was even incarcerated. Presumed Guilty: A Physician's Lifelong Battle for America's Freedom of Medical Choice is the working title of Ms. Muesing's book. She is currently seeking a publisher who is passionate about this historical, controversial and inspiring story.

1940s

Ralph D. Sullivan, DC, FICC (1949) of Westville, Ill., is retired from his practice. He practiced in Chicago from 1949 to 1987 and then in Westville until his retirement in 2005 after 56 years.

1960s

Dr. Royce Newman (1967) of Rockford, Mich., a longtime member of the Michigan Association of Chiropractors (MAC), has sold his practice of 43 years to Dr. Steven Mikulak, a former patient. According to the MAC Journal, Dr. Newman had triple bypass surgery in March and his recovery period spurred him into finalizing the transition period. He plans to continue to work at the clinic three days a week for a couple of years to ensure a smooth transition for the new owner. Dr. Newman joined the Michigan State Chiropractic Society in 1967 and served the association in numerous capacities including president of the Michigan State Chiropractic Association at the time of the historic merger of three chiropractic organizations into the Michigan Chiropractic Society (MCS) in 1988. He has received numerous awards and citations including the MCS Chiropractor of the Year, Pioneer Award and Leadership Award. He and his wife, Pam, have been married 46 years and have three children and seven grandchildren.

1970s

Dr. James L. Rehberger (1972) of Highland, Ill., was honored with the prestigious Delegate of the Year award from the American Chiropractic Association (ACA) during its fall House of Delegates meeting in Newport, R.I. The award is presented annually for exceptional service, achievement and leadership within the association's governing body. Dr. Rehberger is a 36-year member of ACA and has served as the association's Downstate Illinois delegate consistently since 1998. He is an active member of several prominent ACA committees, including the Subcommittee for Ethical Practice, the Resolutions Committee and the Informed Consent Task Force. He also serves as chairman of the Insurance and Managed Care Committee.

1980s

Dr. Mark Kruse (1989) of Metairie, La., has been elected vice president of the Louisiana Board of Chiropractic Examiners. He is currently serving his third term on the board. Dr. Kruse has 21 years of clinical experience and practices in the Metairie area.

Dr. Patricia Thompson (1982) of Neosho, Mo., served as a research specialist at Cleveland Chiropractic College in Kansas City immediately after graduation. Later she owned practices in Tulsa, Okla. and southwest Missouri. Dr. Thompson completed her certificate in homeopathy from the Hahnemann Academy of North America in 2005 and has lectured on homeopathy and chiropractic in several states. She writes a newspaper column, "On the Other Hand," which focuses on alternative health choices. Her hobbies include oil painting, gardening and sewing. She has designed nearly 100 one-of-a-kind quilts for gifts and charitable donations.

Dr. Kimberly Watson (1985) of Longwood, Fla., is proud to announce her participation on three crew teams that won world championship medals at the International Federation of Rowing Associations (FISA) Master Rowers World Championships in Ontario in September. "I was the old girl on the boat at 52+; most of my team members were in their 20s and 30s. It was great fun!" Dr. Watson still practices full time, has two amazing girls (13 and 18), and a supportive husband "who puts up with this stuff" because he is a fellow athlete and understands!

1990s

Dr. Brad Case (1993) recently authored his first book, Thugs, Drugs and the War on Bugs, Book I, in the Why We're Sick health care series. The 528-page volume is an exposé of Western medicine and the entire sickness industry in America. The book is available at www.HealthIsNatural.com, Amazon and other online bookstores. Dr. Case is willing to send a copy of his book to anyone's U.S. senator or representative for a $15 donation. Dr. Case also writes a quarterly newsletter, a monthly e-newsletter and is clinic director of the Holistic Healing Center in Prunedale, Calif. For details, he can be reached at drbradcase@sbcglobal.net or by calling 831-663-2284.

Dr. Craig Gill (1994) of Brighton, Mich., recently drew the attention of the motorsport racing community to chiropractic by sponsoring the "Miss Gill Chiropractic" boat at the 2010 American Power Boat Association (APBA) Gold Cup hydroplane race in Detroit. A lifelong interest in the sport rekindled in 1997 after a patient asked him for a small sponsorship of one of the boats. Interest became an addiction and culminated this year when another patient arranged for a title sponsorship by Ford Motor Company. In an article in the Michigan Association of Chiropractors Journal, Dr. Gill said, "This has been as good for the entire profession of chiropractic as it has been for me. I can't believe the number of people who approached me over the weekend about what chiropractic has done for them," he said.

Dr. Anthony Gioia (1992) has published a book entitled Weightlifting for Boxers: A Fighter's Guide to Strengthening and Conditioning. The book offers new ways to develop muscle power and body hardening that can be applied to any of the combat sports, and can be viewed at Wheatmark.com/bookstore. Dr. Gioia is a certified chiropractic rehabilitation doctor (CCRD) who practices in Algonquin, Ill. He currently resides in McHenry with his two daughters, Brianna and Ellie. In addition to his educational and physical training, Dr. Gioia found time to earn his private pilot's license and recently became engaged.

Dr. Anthony Houssain (1997) of Madison, Ala. and Dr. Sean B. Caine (2002) of Huntsville, Ala., are featured in Secrets of the Best-Run Practices Second Edition by practice management expert Judy Capko. The first chapter, Mission Possible, emphasizes the need for creating a mission statement to guide a practice to success and profiles a few practices that understand and live their mission. Drs. Houssain and Caine, who are affiliated with Spine Care, are cited in this chapter for their commitment to elevating a specialty practice.

Dr. Philip P. Moscatel (1991) of Glen Ellyn, Ill., spoke on "Innovative Posture Concepts and Techniques" at a Student Chiropractic Association (SACA) event on Nov. 11 on the National University campus in Lombard. In private practice for over 18 years, he is also the author of the book, Posture Core Wellness Made Simple.

Our Apology to Dr. Gentile

In the last issue of Alumnus, there was an error among those recognized with special honors at Homecoming 2010. We mistakenly referred to Dr. John Gentile, winner of the Alumnus of the Year award, as immediate past president of the American Chiropractic Association (ACA). Dr. Gentile points out with good humor that he was in fact, not the past president, but the past chairman of the ACA.

Please accept our apologies, Dr. Gentile.
